U. S. Plane Crash Lands High Up In Alps Mountains

Rescue Teams Of Four Nations Are Feverishly Trying To Reach Scene

REPORT ELEVEN OF THIRTEEN INJURED (BULLETIN)

PARIS, Nov. 20.—(INS)—Rescue teams of four nations—including trained mountainers and search aircraft—strove valiantly today to reach the wreckage of a U. S. Army transport plane which went down in the snow-swept Alps with an American general and other high-ranking Army officers.

Unofficial reports said that 11 of the 13 persons aboard were injured,
some seriously, when the plane
crash-landed atop a 10,000-foot bluff
in the desolate Glandon pass sector, near the France-Italian border.
Four Army wives and one child were aboard the plane, which was enroute to Istres field in France
after stopping at Munich.

Airmen Join Rescue

While French and Italian Alpinists fought their way determinedly up the tricky terrain toward the wreckage, British, French and American airmen joined the rescue work. The fliers were under orders to drop desperately-needed blankets, food and medicines to the survivors.

Dispatches from Munich, the last stop-over point, said the passengers included Brig. Gen. L. M. Haynes, head of Gen. Mark W. Clark's advisory staff in Vienna.

Also listed as passengers were Mrs.
Haynes and Mrs. Ralph Snavely, wife of Brig. General Snavely, chief of the U. S. Air Force in Europe.

PA NEW OBSERVES

John Z. Street, city engineer, today reported New Castle Duntile company, has completed the repair of the spillway at Cascade Park
which was broken by flood waters
some months ago.

Pa News has noted that a number of local hunters have gone to the mountain country of the state in search of bears, during the present hunting season. No one has as yet reported bagging a brown bear. How about it hunters? Any brought back to Lawrence county?

Pa News noted this morning that the "pumper" belonging to the city fire department is on the job.
It, with other trucks of the fire department, answered a call to 103 North Mill street this morning, but no action by the firemen was needed.

Once building restrictions are lifted and construction of projected new buildings gets under way, there will be a transformation in the area at the South and Mercer street intersection. The new Bell Telephone company building, the new recreation building of the Eagles and the new home for the L. O. O. F. are also projected for this immediate area.

Local residents who have been among tourists in years past who have visited the White House in Washington, will be interested in the report that the White House entertained 7,112 visitors in three days after it was reopened to visitors last week. The White House was closed to all visitors as sightseers during the war years.

Start Probe Of Blast Aboard U. S. Carrier

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 20.—(INS)—A three-man navy board of inquiry today sought to determine the cause of an explosion in which one man was killed and 31 others were injured aboard the 27,000-ton Aircraft Carrier Antietam.

The dead man and the injured
were working near an after-engine six decks below the flight deck when the explosion felled them in narrow passageways but caused only slight damage to the Essex class carrier.

Source Not Determined
Although the source of the blast
has not yet been determined, preliminary reports of the investigators said gas fumes probably collected near the engine and were ignited by a spark from a chisel on a chipping gun.

Killed was John F. Calverley, 60, of San Mateo, Cal., civilian employee of the Hunters Point Navy Yard on San Francisco Bay, where the Antietam was undergoing routine overhaul.

Eight other civilian workers were critically burned, nineteen others were less seriously hurt and four navy enlisted men were injured,
three of them seriously.

Lame Ducks Eye
Choice U. S. Posts
WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—The choice flock of lame ducks that capital has seen in 14 long years today was evening the 15 good jobs available to deserving but defeated Democrats.

As a result of the sweeping Republican triumph in the Nov. 5 "had enough" election there are more than 50 ousted Democrats, ranging from ancient new dealers to party conservatives, who feel that in accordance with tradition they are entitled to appoint plums.

Expect Appointments
Washington observers expect President Truman and his advisers
to get busy filling the vacant jobs with the likeliest lame ducks as soon as he returned from his Florida vacation.

But meantime a note of warning
was sounded from the Republican leaders on Capitol Hill, said Sen.
Tate (R., Ohio, GOP bellwether in last week's steering committee sessions):

"We will go along with the appointments the president makes if they are good appointments.
"But they'll have to be good. The burden of proof is on the administration and on the appointee. We will not tolerate purely political maneuvers."

Sen. Styles Bridges (R., N. H.) declared that any men named as Republicans to bipartisan jobs must be "born-true Republicans."

The jobs Mr. Truman is expected to fill between now and Jan. 1 include three ambassadorships.

OPA Granted Raise In Sugar Price In Effect

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—(INS)—An OPA-granted increase in the price of sugar became effective at the refinery level today.

It is expected to add one-half cent a pound to the retail price of sugar as soon as raw sugar now being processed reaches grocery shelves. OPA estimated that $50-600,000 will be added to the nation's food bill by the increase.

The agency blamed the rise on the upward climb of the cost of living due to decontrol of most foods.
The price paid by this country for Cuban sugar is pegged to the national cost of living index.

Five Are Killed In Explosion At Greenville, S. C.

GREENVILLE, S. C., Nov. 20.— (INS)—The known death toll from a terrific explosion that wrecked a laundry plant and other buildings in downtown Greenville was placed at five today.

Twenty-seven other persons still were hospitalized, some of whom were said to be in a critical condition.

More than 200 persons were treated for injuries suffered in the blast
last night.

Forty persons were said to have been in the Ideal Laundry Co.
building when the gas explosion ripped apart the plant. Windows throughout the city were shattered.
The dead included J. Carl Trammell, manager of the plant.

Damage from the explosion was estimated at approximately half a million dollars.

The explosion and fire followed a leak in a 15,000-gallon tank of propane, a high pressure cleaning fluid.
The odorless gas filtered to the basement and was set off by heat
from the furnace.

Plunges To Death Rather Than Face Trial On Charges

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 20.— (INS)—Funeral arrangements were being completed today for Floyd Bloomingdale, 39-year-old truck driver, who plunged to his death
rather than stand trial for beating his wife.

Mrs. Marie Bloomingdale, 33, mother of his nine children, charged in an assault and battery warrant that her husband beat her severely last Wednesday.

When detectives arrived at his home Monday night, Bloomingdale ran out the back door.

Police found his body yesterday beneath a 33-foot viaduct. In his pocket they discovered a note which said:

"Forgive me, Ma, love the kids."

BAR CHRISTMAS TREES IN HOTELS

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—(INS)—There will be no Christmas trees this year in New York's hotels, theaters, department stores and restaurants.

The fire department today
banned all balsam Christmas trees from places of "public assembly." The department said the order was issued after tests had shown that efforts to fireproof the trees had proved unsatisfactory.

L. S. & T. Company Purchases Bank At Ellwood City

Announcement was made today
by Charles H. Johnson, Jr., president of the Lawrence Savings and Trust Company, of the purchase of the assets and banking business of the Peoples National Bank of Ellwood City by the Lawrence Savings
and Trust Company, of New Castle.
It is expected that final consummation of the transaction will be effected on or about January 2, 1947 after which time the business of the National Bank will be conducted at the present location as the Ellwood City Branch, Lawrence Savings and Trust Company.

The personnel of the National Bank will be increased in order to provide for additional Banking Services in the Ellwood City area.

Conjecture On Oil Pipelines Policy Change

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—(INS)—There was conjecture today on Capitol Hill that the government may be playing a "trump card" in its dispute with John L. Lewis by rejecting all bids for the "big inch"
and "little inch" oil pipelines.

Announcement of the rejection of 16 bids was accompanied by a statement from War Assets Administration Littlejohn that he now felt free to sell the lines to natural gas interests if they submitted the highest bid for the wartime properties.

Underlying the conjecture was the knowledge that Lewis, head of the United Mine Workers of America, is bitterly opposed to turning the 1200-mile pipelines over to natural gas interests.

The piping of natural gas from Texas and other Southern states,
where it is abundant, would play havoc with the coal industry—and Lewis' miners—by providing a cheaper fuel for consumers in northern states.

Government officials were tight-lipped over the significance of the sudden move which was announced by Littlejohn in an unexpected appearance before the House Surplus property committee. Littlejohn told the committee the 16 bids were too low for the properties which cost the government 147 million dollars. He placed their present value at 113 million dollars.

Navy In Key Pacific Base Shift

Sharp cuts in the Navy's Pacific base plans, recently recommended, are said to approve abandonment of the extensive Leyte-Samar base area in the Philippines while concentrating most of the naval facilities in the Kwajalein (I.) area of the Marshall Islands. Another subsidiary base would be at Kadiak (I.) in the Alaskan area while major bases would be located at Hawaii and the Guam zone (indicated by star). It was reported that, for a number of reasons, the Army might revise its Philippine base plans, too, and move to Okinawa.

Move To Deprive Russia Of Votes Now Stalemate

Under-Cover Move In United Nations Apparently Has Been Blocked

NEW NATIONS ARE ACCEPTED BY U. N.

By GEORGE DURNO

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Nov. 20.—The newly-increased 54-member United Nations continued on their important committee work today after a complete stalemate in an under-cover move to deprive Soviet Russia of two votes on the 18-member economic and social council.

Sweden, Iceland and Afghanistan
sat in today for the first time on committee meetings of the United Nations, each one of which amounted to a "committee of the whole,"
because each member of the United Nations organization was represented.

These three governments were elected unanimously at a day-long plenary session of the UN General Assembly.

Unsettled Hitch
There was one unsettled hitch in connection with election of six new members on the 18-member economic council.

Russia had four votes—her own,
and those of Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia and the Soviet Ukraine.

Four ballots were taken yesterday,
but only four of the six nations
were elected.

What Coal Strike Threat Is All About

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—(INS)—
Here is what the soft coal strike set by John L. Lewis for midnight tonight is all about:

Lewis on November 15 gave five days notice of termination of the United Mine Workers agreement to work the bituminous mines seized by the government to end the coal strike last spring—in effect a strike notice.

The UMW chief so acted after rejecting Secretary of the Interior Krug's proposal that the mines be returned to their owners and that the union deal with the operators.

Spurs Truce Plea
Lewis contended that the operators—even though they had agreed to negotiate with him—were so split that negotiations were useless.

The union boss also spurned
Krug's plea for a 60-day truce period.

The union boss also spurned Krug's
plea for a 60-day truce period.

The union seeks a 40-hour week with the same pay now received for 54 hours, doubling of the "royalty"
in coal used to finance health and welfare funds, and other concessions.
The miners now can earn $75.25 for a 34-hour week.

On November 18 the government obtained an injunction ordering
Lewis to revoke the walkout notice.
If Lewis fails to comply with the injunction before midnight he faces
a contempt of court charges.

Car Overturns; Occupants Hurt

Group Of Shenango Pottery Workers Meet With Accident When Returning Home

Three occupants were injured, and two escaped injury, Tuesday afternoon at 4:40 o'clock, when a car driven by Michael Vasilyevsk, age 24 years, of 1425 South Jefferson street, skidded and overturned as he reached a bend on the Old Pittsburgh road.

Vasilyevsk who was driving the group home from the Shenango Pottery where all are employed, received cuts about his face, and was discharged after being treated at the New Castle hospital.

Other injured were: Wilda Steve-son, 29 years, of 1219 South Jefferson street, suffered an injured right arm and body bruises. She is still confined to the hospital.

Ruth Cooper, 18 years, of 1219
South Jefferson street, was treated for injuries to her right leg, and later discharged.

Two occupants who escaped injury were: Charlotte Foster, 1910
Pennsylvania avenue, and Rose Sabo, 122 Smithfield street.

Those injured were immediately
taken to the hospital by Sam Staph, of R. D. 1, and William Wischer-mann, of R. D. 1, Wampum.

Friday Parade Route Is Given

Rubber Balloon Holiday
Parade To Cover Uptown
And South Side Areas

J. H. Wachman, executive vice president of the Greater New Castle Association said today that arrangements had been completed
with Police Chief Robert D. Hanna
for the Christmas season rubber balloon parade route Friday afternoon.

At 4 o'clock the parade will move out of the Pennsylvania Power pole yard on South Jefferson and turn north on Jefferson street.

From there it will go to the public square where it will turn east on Washington street. It will turn south on to Mill street and go down Mill street to Long avenue.

It will turn west on Long avenue
and go to Moravia street and then will turn north on Moravia street and up Moravia and Jefferson to the Pennsylvania Power pole yard
where it will disband.

Previously it had been stated that the parade route would be different than this. The announcement today sets the correct route for the parade.

Young Woman Leaps From Window While Being Questioned

WHEELING, W. Va., Nov. 20.— (INS)—Police reported today that Bertha R. Floyd, 24, was criminally injured last night when she leaped through a second floor window in the prosecuting attorney's office where she was being questioned on a complaint that she neglected her 28-month-old child.

Assistant Prosecutor Tom O'Brien
said the woman was taken to the Ohio Valley hospital where her condition was reported as fair. He added that the complaint was filed by the woman's mother, Mrs. Helen Richmond.

Speculation On Possible Course Of John L. Lewis

Recall Action Taken In 1919
Under Situation Almost Identical

By JACK WARD
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 20.—The nation speculated today if John L.
Lewis will remember the past and—
as he did once before—end the "national menace" of a nationwide coal strike.

Following World War I the UMW
chief was faced with a situation almost identical to the threatened bituminous walkout scheduled for midnight tonight.

In 1919 Lewis led a strike of 600-000 miners, until the government obtained a court injunction to halt
the walkout. In answer to the restraining order, Lewis made his dramatic and famous statement:

"Gentlemen, we will obey the mandate of the court. We do so under protest."

"We are Americans. We cannot fight our government."

The UMW leader made his statement 24 hours after the writ was issued, and the strike ended.

The question the nation asked today:

"Will he do the same thing now?"

For the second time in eight months, the United Mine Workers are headed for a national tieup of the bituminous coal pits.

Spreading "wildcat" walkouts gave added emphasis to the miners' apparent intention to close down the mines in the face of a federal injunction ordering Lewis to fulfill his contract with the government, which sealed the pits after the UMW contract expired last spring.

On April 1 of this year Lewis called his men from the pits for what he termed "a well earned rest." At the same time he adhered to his traditional "no contract, no work" rule.

The bituminous leader spurned a government plea to stave off the coal strike and won his wage and welfare demands only after the navy
took over control at the pits.

Railroads Await Decision To Cut Passenger Runs

Trains Here To Be Affected If Coal Strike Develops, It Is Indicated

Railroads serving New Castle today awaited the outcome of the coal strike threat to determine whether or not passenger runs would be slashed to conserve coal.

If the strike occurs, the B. & O., P. & E. and the Pennsylvania systems will reduce their schedules effective Sunday midnight. This reduction in passenger service will be comparable to the crisis of May 10 when identical curtailments were effected.

Only on road, the Pennsylvania announced definite trains that would be affected by the reduction.
These are 334, Chicago to Pittsburgh; 316, 332 and 333, all Pittsburgh to Cleveland trains.

No decision from higher headquarters was forthcoming on any of the roads and it is not believed any action will be taken until it is seen what decision the miners will make.

Lewis Silent As Deadline Is Approached

Government's Order To Lift
Strike Call Has So Far
Been Ignored

LEWIS IS RISKING CONTEMPT CITATION

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.

—A major coal production shutdown was underway today as 100,000 of John L.
Lewis' miners ignored the government's legal battle to force their still silent leader
to lift a formal strike notice
set for midnight tonight.

At the same time, it was revealed that the government's clash with Lewis was precipitated largely by his demand for doubling the "royalty" on coal used to finance a health and welfare fund for the miners.

Walkout Spreading
One quarter of the union's 400,000 members quit work well before the strike deadline. The walkout was spreading hourly as Lewis masked any reaction to a federal court order restraining him from terminating the government-UMW wage contract.

More than 36 hours after the court order was served on the 66-year-old labor chief, there still was no word from UMW headquarters
as to whether Lewis intended to revoke the strike notice or go into court to seek dissolution of the temporary injunction.

The government charged in its application for the legal weapon that Lewis' termination of the miners' wage agreement "constitutes, in fact and in effect, a call to strike."

Run Risk Of Contempt
As the hours ticked away, the union boss and his aides ran the increasing risk of a contempt citation with possible fines and jail sentences.

Government attorneys said that it would be up to Interior Secretary
J. A. Krug, or Attorney General
Tom Clark acting as Krug's lawyer,
to notify District Judge T. Alan Goldensborough whether the court order was being obeyed. Officials

'Nothing New In Coal Crisis'

President's Press Secretary
At Key West Says No
New Developments

U. S. NAVAL BASE, Key West,
Fla., Nov. 20.—(INS)—President Truman was up at an early hour
today working on correspondence and other official papers as the midnight deadline on the soft coal strike was only a few hours away.

With nearly 100,000 miners already out of the pits, there were no
new developments on the crisis
overnight at the temporary White House.

Press Secretary Charles G. Ross
reported this morning:

"There is nothing new on coal."
The chief executive remained ready to take any further steps necessary to prevent stoppage of the nation's vital fuel production.

The president was up at 6 a. m., and spent two hours before breakfast going over mail from Washington and dictating letters.

Reconversion Director John R.
Steelman, Admiral William D.
Leshy, Judge John C. Collett and Major Gen. Harry Vaughan were due in by plane from Washington to join the party early in the afternoon.

Arthur Mometer

There is well past mid-November and the sun is still all smiles, used to be left up early and by noon
was miles and miles from the state of Pennsylvania, but this year he's doing well, for this sunny, clear November is the weather we call suave. All these folks who seek the southland when the winter creases haven't left as yet; the reason is we haven't seen much snow. I would like such weather up to when Miss March has gone away, but it's just a mere suggestion—weather's
fifty-three today.

Executives Hear Parker Discuss Life In Liberia

Speaker Tells About Work Of Economic Mission To West African Republic At Dinner Meeting

Members of the Executives club and their ladies heard Earl Parker Hanson, engineer and traveler, and more recently a member of the Economic Commission to Liberia speak on the subject, "American Frontiers in the Deepest Jungle," at the monthly dinner meeting of the club in The Castleton Tuesday evening.

Mr. Hanson was introduced by Orville Flora, President J. Glen Berry announced that the next speaker will be the Baroness De Polenska, who was a prisoner of the Nazis during the war, and who escaped from several concentration camps. Her subject will be "Europe, Left or Right?"

The reception committee appointed by President Berry for this meeting on December 10, will be Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Taylor, Attorney and Mrs. Roy W. Hazen, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. McFeaters.

Mr. Hanson told about the work of his group, who were sent to Liberia, still a primitive land in spite of the fact that it was organized as a Republic in 1847.

The Liberian Republic was founded by men freed as slaves in this country from 1821 on, the government having been in the control of a small minority group, who in spite of the fact that they had formerly been slaves themselves, returned to this practice and existed by the labor they extracted from the aborigines, as well as from the profit they made by selling their fellow men to other colonial settlements in West Africa.

This practice was only abolished 10 or 12 years ago, the speaker stated.

Mr. Hanson found Liberia a land rich in resources, with great iron deposits, gold and other precious metals, valuable timber, palm oil, cola nuts, cocoa, and other products which this country is trying to get the natives to develop, and, in return, be able to purchase goods from this country.

The new president of the Republic is working with the American government, and has virtually brought about a social revolution in Liberia, giving them the right of franchise, as well as many other opportunities they have not had before.

MOVE TO DEPRIVE RUSSIA OF VOTES NOW STALEMATED

of 36 votes, the United States, with 31, Venezuela, with 46, and New Zealand, with 44, were elected on the first ballot.

Lebanon polled 41 on the second ballot.

Thereafter, the general assembly voted twice more ineffectively. When Belgium assembly president Paul-Henri Spaak finally called an end to the voting, Turkey had 29, the Netherlands, 28, Byelo-Russia 22, and Yugoslavia, 9.

Issue Goes Over

The whole issue went over until the next session of the general assembly.

Three new two-year members of the security council were voted in however—Columbia, Syria and Belgium. Of the six non-permanent committee-men they will succeed the Netherlands, Mexico and Egypt.

There were two highlights in addition on yesterday's full session of the assembly.

Membership applications of Ireland, Portugal, Albania, Transjordan and Outer Mongolia were referred back to the security council for reconsideration.

A rather innocuous Egyptian resolution was passed, calling upon all concerned to desist from racial or religious persecution.

Both Britain and Russia voted for it, but agreed there was no force in the proposal.

Paris reports said the plane carried 13 persons, including the crew. Vienna, however, placed the total at 11.

Vienna said the pilot was Capt. Ralph H. Tate, Jr., son of Brig. Gen. Ralph Tate, Gen. Clark's deputy commander, and Mrs. Tate. The co-pilot was Second Lieut. Irving Matthea. Other members of the crew were Sergt. Louis Hill and Sergt. Wayne C. Folson.

The transport plane left Vienna's Tulln airport for Munich Monday night, remaining in Munich overnight. Then it took off for France yesterday, crash landing en route.

Wolves Members Hear Recruiter

Chief Petty Officer John Burrelli Speaks At Tuesday Dinner-Meeting

Chief Petty Officer John Burrelli, a local man, and local recruiting officer of the U. S. Navy, was the speaker at the Wolves club dinner-meeting held at The Castleton.

Chief Petty Officer Burrelli has been in service for nine years, and he told of his many interesting experiences while stationed in the Pacific area from 1938 to 1943. He was in the Atlantic area in 1943 to 1945. His experiences proved interesting to the group. He was introduced by William DeCarbo.

Plans are underway for the New Year's party on December 31, at The Cathedral. Program Chairman William DeCarbo announced reservations to be in by December 3. The event, which is semi-formal, will attract a crowd of approximately 150 couples.

On December 3, three new board directors will be elected, and the board meeting which follows is for the purpose of electing the new officers of the year.

After the close bowling was enjoyed by the teams.

Phalanx Club

Planned At 'Y'

After a hull caused by the war years, the Y. M. C. A. is again launching a program of club work for young men. Already under way is the Key Men's club of the physical department, and this evening a group of young men will meet at the association building to form a Phalanx Club.

doubled, however, that the strike would be ended even if Lewis cancelled the contract termination notice. Amidst the war of nerves, informed sources disclosed that the UMW president had asked Krug during their talks a week ago to boost to ten cents the present five cents a ton "royalty" on coal for the miner's welfare program.

Army Is Ready

Lewis, it was learned, told Krug that the existing levy—which in five months has raised $8,114,951—would have to be doubled if the fund was to serve its purpose. Lewis' original demand on bituminous operators in 1945 and again this year was for ten cents.

Meantime, the strike gained momentum and the war department announced that the Army was ready "upon call" from the federal coal mines administration to protect miners who wanted to stay on the job.

A nationwide "brownout," restrictions on railroad passenger and freight traffic, curtailment of parcel post service and rationing of cooking gas appeared to be the inevitable consequences of a prolonged mine shutdown.

Must Conserve

Civilian production administrator John D. Small warned that the country has not fully recovered from last spring's walkout and that if production stops again "immediate steps must be taken to conserve existing coal stocks."

Small said electric power plants, industries, railroads and householders will have to conserve fuel in every possible way. He added that the present "frozen" 37-day supply of soft coal will have no discernible effect on the most essential uses.

The government's strike preparations and legal maneuvers brought no visible reaction at UMW headquarters. Lewis' legal staff was busy at work but the union president himself showed no evidence of unusual activity. He spent most of Tuesday in his auxiliary headquarters the swank Carlton Hotel.

Lewis Remains Silent

The UMW president took time out for a haircut, calmly read a newspaper in the hotel lounge for a while and sternly brushed aside all inquiries from reporters.

In negotiations with Lewis last week, Krug took the position that the increase in the miner's welfare levy and the demand for a 40-hour week in the coal mines were such "fundamental issues" that they should be bargained out with the industry rather than the government.

McILVAINE GUILD HEARS SPEAKER

Mellvaine guild of the First Presbyterian church was entertained for its November meeting at the home of Mrs. Gordon Jenkins, 209 Glenmore boulevard. Mrs. Frank Eichholtz, Mrs. Edwin Feass, Mrs. Carlton Ferris and Mrs. James B. Foster, Jr. were associate hostesses.

To open the program, Mrs. Arthur Guy reviewed a portion of the book, "Behold Your King."

As the speaker, Jack M. Dunlap, probation officer was introduced by Mrs. J. J. Alexander. In his talk he stressed the fact that there are very few cases of juvenile delinquency filed in juvenile court in Lawrence county in contrast to other counties of the state of the same size. It is in the broken homes reflected in the large number of cases in detention and non-support court, 505 active cases at the present time, that one may find the cause of the great majority of juvenile delinquency cases. He stated, and many he said, may be attributable to a lack of church affiliation.

During business, with Mrs. Samuel W. Perry, Jr. presiding, the date for a special project was announced as December 7.

Announcement was also made of the Thanksgiving service at the church Sunday evening, November 24, and Mrs. Kenneth McLaure, Mrs. T. M. Love, Mrs. Carlton Ferris, Mrs. Perry, Jr., and Mrs. Eichholtz as usher committee from the guild.

WASHINGTON CALLING

Senator Taft May Get Important Post

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—The hot seat in the new Republican senate will be the chairmanship of the committee on education and labor. Who will occupy that seat is still a perplexing question that may split the Republican majority before it is really answered.

If the logic of seniority is observed, the post will go to Sen. George Aiken of Vermont. Aiken, who runs a prosperous business in plants and flowers at Putney, Vt., founded on his original interest in wild flowers, would like to be chairman of the senate agriculture committee. But ahead of him in seniority is Sen. Arthur Capper of Kansas, who has waited 30 years to take over the chairmanship of the agriculture committee.

Aiken is virtually the senior Republican on the senate education and labor committee, which will get the controversial new labor bills that congress intends to take up soon after the session convenes. On the other hand, he ranks next under Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio. But Taft is certain to continue as chairman of the Republican steering committee, which means that he will be the real boss of the senate. Taft is also eligible for the chairmanship of the powerful finance committee. By past tradition, therefore, he would give way to Aiken on the labor committee.

Taft May Take Post

However, Taft has said he may take the latter office, too. This is because Aiken is known to be a liberal who does not go along with the right wing of the party now dominant in the council of the GOP. This independent Vermont vote against the Case bill, for example. Aiken believes he is entitled to the labor committee chairmanship. He would take it in place of agriculture. If he does not get it, there will be resentment among the Republicans in congress who regard themselves as liberals. Aiken, at the same time, has made it plain that he would not let his own views influence his judgment as chairman of the committee. In other words, he would not try to block, by virtue of his position, consideration of bills that seemed to have general support.

One of the interesting questions to be answered after January 3 is just how much influence the liberal bloc inside the top-heavy Republican majority will actually have. Skeptics believe it will be largely a nuisance bloc, producing much sound and fury but incapable of checkmating the conservatives and reactionaries who want to punish labor.

No Daily Restrictive Laws
Speaking on an AFL broadcast after the election, Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon, a most articulate champion of liberalism and also a member of the education and labor committee, gave his assurance that the new congress would not pass unduly restrictive laws. He mentioned specifically the Case bill, which would restrict the rights of labor in the event of a strike.

Morse, who is left for a tour of Europe the other day, said that he would name the Republican senators who could be counted on to vote against such restrictive measures as the Case bill, with its long cooling-off period before a strike could be called. First, he made it plain that he is in favor of revision of the Wagner act and in favor of a law which would prohibit jurisdictional strikes. Organized labor must accept these corrections, in his view.

But when it came down to naming Republican senators who would stand up and be counted against restrictive legislation, Morse was hard put to it. Among Republicans carried over or re-elected, he included Senators Aiken, Tobey of Massachusetts, Knowland of California, Stassen of Massachusetts and Langer of North Dakota. Among incoming senators, he listed Cain of Washington, Flanders of Vermont, Lodge of Massachusetts, Ives of New York, Tive of Minnesota and Malone of Nevada. That adds up to 11 votes, and some are questionable. To this number might be added the new Republican senator from Kentucky, John S. Cooper, who was supported by the liberal Louisville Courier-Journal. Counting all possible Democrats who could be expected to oppose drastic anti-labor legislation, you come out with the figure 19. Thirty or 31 votes is far short of a majority, and Morse is likely to find it very difficult to live up to his pledge to the AFL.

But before these votes are counted, the Republicans themselves will have to decide how they are going to resolve the differences within their own party. If they pass over Aiken and if Taft assumes the important chairmanship of the labor committee, in addition to this job as working boss of the new majority, it will be a clear signal that the so-called liberal bloc will be on the outside looking in. It will mean that the conservatives and reactionaries are convinced they are so solidly that they can ignore the dissenting minority.

WHERE IS THE STUFF?

The scarcity of margarine and soap has an ironic twist for several million Americans who saw service in the Pacific with the Army, Navy, and Air Forces. After redeeming all those millions of acres of coconut plantations for Lever Brothers, et al, the GI should have a right to a regular ration of oleomargarine and plain old soap.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

(Distributed by International News Service)
Mr. Truman is reading the life of Alexander the conqueror . . . He is hoping to pick up a few tips on how to handle John the coalman.

The question now before the country is . . . Can you dig coal with an injunction or is a pick better?

Things were never blacker . . . Phil Murray says corporations will make 15 billion dollars this year and that nothing could be worse for us.

Most of us can remember the good old days of '32 when corporations turned a bare two billion profit.

Of course there were 10 million unemployed but it sure kept profits from getting out of hand.

Now . . . apparently nothing but another streak of idleness can bring down earnings and with 58 million employed the prospects for idleness are downright discouraging.

If people are going to keep on working and buying and business is going to keep on profiting it may be more difficult to get back to the old days than we suspect.

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

An elderly lady whom I have known for a long time said to me a few days ago—and she said it with a happy smile:

"What do you think? Tom just called me on the phone and asked me to have lunch with him. And he said that he would pay for the lunch. It's the first time he has ever done that."

"Isn't it wonderful?" I remarked, also with a happy smile, only hers was real and mine was simulated.

Tom is my friend's son, her only son.

She is a widow and worked for a living longer than I can remember. She never made much money, and most of what she did make she spent on Tom.

When she made her own dresses and hats over, Tom got new clothes. She sent Tom to college and when he got married she used most of her savings to see to it that he had an elegant wedding and an extended honeymoon trip.

Tom took it all in his stride. His father had died when he was very young, so he had been mama's boy ever since he was knee-high to a grasshopper.

And now he had asked his mother to lunch.

And he was going to pay for it. Wonderful isn't it?

Now you may say that Tom is a very ungrateful boy and shame on him.

Yet, aren't there thousands of Toms just like him?

Aren't there thousands of Janes and Marys just like him?

I was just getting ready to do a lot of moralizing about Tom and to express my indignation about the likes of him.

Then I did a little thinking. I thought about my own youth and about my own mother and father and how they saved and skipped and sacrificed for me—and how little I did in return.

Have you ever drawn up a sort of balance sheet about your own account with your parents?

Have you ever figured out how many thousands of dollars they spent on your diapers and your milk and your clothes and your education and your weekly allowance and the hundreds of other things all good parents—and pretty nearly all parents are good—do for their children?

What have you and I done in return?

Oh, maybe we think of them at Christmas and on their birthdays. Maybe we go to visit them now and then and even help to support them when they get old.

But how many of us do it with the same love and devotion and unselfishness that they showered upon us when we were young?

Professional "Liberals" Seem Off Balance

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20. ADMITTEDLY, the recent election was pretty tough on the professional "liberals" who were the most vehement of the Democratic spokesmen in the last campaign and the most conspicuously flattened out by the results. But not until these gentlemen recovered the power of speech a few days ago was it realized how really hard they had been hit.

At no time, of course, have they ever been noted for fairness, balance or poise. In the past their public utterances have been largely free from logic and certainly not distinguished by accuracy or judgment. However, they usually made some kind of sense. For the time being that sense seems to have been knocked out of them. In the last ten days, there have been several statements from "liberal" sources of such extraordinary nature as to cause some misgivings as to whether they have not completely lost their bearings.

For example, there is the explanation of the result by a committee of the Conference of Progressive Writers which is "liberal" to the last degree. According to this committee, the result was no repudiation of either the Truman Administration or the Roosevelt policies. On the contrary, it merely showed that the people were "dissatisfied with the failure of the Seventy-ninth Congress, dominated by a reactionary coalition to move toward the satisfaction of the vital needs of the people." In other words, the people showed their resentment against the "reactionary coalition" by voting one element of the coalition into full control of both branches of Congress and throwing into the discard such sturdy "liberal" wheelhorses as Senator Guffey of Pennsylvania, Senator Mitchell of Washington, ex-Congressman Will Rogers, Jr., of California, ex-Governor Lehman of New York and many others who were in opposition to that coalition. The effort to reconcile the committee explanation of the result with the result will impose a strain on the hardest mind. It is better not to try.

BUT it is when one analyzes the most recent statements emanating from Mr. Henry Wallace (who if not actually our leading "liberal" is highly publicized as such and certainly is the most articulate) that the groggy condition of the liberals can be fully grasped. Because Mr. Wallace, always loose and impulsive in his language, is now talking so wildly as to suggest that instead of taking on a new job he really needs an extended holiday with complete mental rest. Aside from the absurd inconsistencies of his pre-election criticism of ex-Governor Stassen in one Western speech and his praise of him the following day in another, there was also his election-day declaration in New York that Senator Mead could not be elected and his earnest appeal for his election less than an hour later.

ASIDE from these, his postelection comments seem to indicate a confusion much greater than usual. For example, there was his recent radio declaration that Republican policies probably would make war inevitable, plus his insistence that Senator Vandenberg had really made the Truman-Byrnes foreign policy and is himself dominated by the New York Times correspondent, Mr. James Reston—thus making that able and amiable gentleman responsible for the whole business, which must surprise him no little.

FINALLY, there was his horrendous sentence passed upon Senator Wayne Morse, of Oregon, that he must be "stricken from the liberal rolls" because he had "supported reactionaries." Just what reactionaries Mr. Wallace did not specify, but it does seem that if Senator Morse could forgive Mr. Wallace's support of such communisticly inclined candidates as Johannes Steel and Vito Marcantonio, Mr. Wallace might forgive him for voting for a Republican candidate in his own State, particularly as Senator Morse's brand of liberalism on domestic issues coincides so completely with his own.

THE fact is that Senator Morse is the most vociferous "liberal" on the Republican side. Constantly beating his breast in behalf of "true liberalism," he frequently warns his party against "reaction" and is highly esteemed by Mr. Wallace's friends of the CIO-PAC for his championship of the "common man" and his support of all CIO legislation. He voted against the Case bill and against overriding the Truman veto. Almost simultaneously with Mr. Wallace's decision that he should be "stricken from the liberal rolls," Senator Morse declared that he could see mandate in the election for drastic labor legislation, declared against Senator Ball's desire to outlaw the closed shop, and insisted that the "right to strike" must not be abridged.

CLEARLY this is the "liberalism" of Mr. Wallace, Senator Pepper and Mr. Philip Murray. Clearly, if Senator Morse is to be stricken from the liberal rolls, the great cause to which Mr. Wallace is devoted will be weakened in the Senate—one of its chief champions lost. It does not seem possible to be more confused than that.

The Parent Problem

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph. D.

HELPING THE ANXIOUS CHILD

Among the many thousands of letters I have received from parents since Pearl Harbor, there have not been nearly so many of them relating to anxieties in children as one might have expected. The following letter does not appear to be connected directly with war.

"Dear Dr. Myers: My 7½ year old daughter is beginning to show signs of being worried and full of fear just as I myself am and as my own mother is also. My mother's health has never been good, and she always has been such a worrier over things big or little. Looking back as a child, I believe I was aware of her fear; (clearing electrical storms, going to town alone, etc.)

"So now I realize I am too much like that myself. I've always been a nervous type with an overdose of fear. I sometimes feel I can't go shopping alone or, in a crowd, I am nervous; oh, all the usual nervous feelings nervous people get. I'm telling you this so you will know why I'm really anxious for my child.

Missing The Bus
"During my first grade, her main worry was missing the bus to and from school. If the family (I have a 2½ year old son) takes a short automobile trip she's afraid we won't know the way back home. While we are down town and I leave the car to go in a store, she doesn't want to stay in the car alone. Says she's afraid I won't come back. My mother tells me when I've gone to visit a friend for a short time she says, 'Suppose mother never comes back, what would we do?' and expresses her worry in some way. Yet her teacher told me last year she was the happiest child she had. Knowing how my mother is and how I am, I want to do anything I can to prevent her being so dependent and scared of going ahead in this life. A self-addressed stamped envelope is enclosed."

AS this mother herself observes, it is easy to see that her child has lived in an atmosphere of anxiety. This mother is quite correct in assuming that she and her mother need to conquer their own anxieties for this child's sake, if not for their own.

No Easy Task
Of course, we know they have no easy task, having been so long practiced at fretting and worrying. I did suggest to her that she might work in two directions: 1. To seek more interests and recreation which are cheerful and hopeful, read and use more that will make her laugh and get lost in helping some other persons to be happy. 2. To guard herself, especially in that child's presence, against giving free expression to the anxieties she has.

As for the child, it is encouraging that she seems to be happy with other children. Normal mingling with playmates at wholesome fun could hardly be equaled as a corrective measure. Sending her my special bulletin, "Fear," I also suggested she try to see that this child has ample sleep and rest, be kept from exposure to the fearful and exciting in stories, radio programs and in movies; that, moreover, she help this child to be self-reliant, looking after herself, also helping about the house.

SAME OLD EMERGENCY
The song is ended but the melody lingers on. The President has stated that the country now faces an emergency as serious as the Pearl Harbor one. So it does, but it is the same old emergency that was proclaimed on a cold March morning in 1933 and has been redeclared at average intervals six months ever since. After 13 years, though, the clamor call of emergency has lost its compelling quality. Now its principal recall that hero of Mr. Aesop's who for a while made himself an indispensable man by crying "Wolf! Wolf!" The announcement, one suspects, will be the same in the present table as it was in Mr. Aesop's.

You're Telling Me

By WILLIAM RITT
Central Press Writer

The Union of South Africa now wants to annex Southwest Africa. Southwest Africa is where the Hottentots dwell. You know, the folk who haven't been getting their daily quart of milk regularly.

Southwest Africa doesn't seem much of a bargain. In some areas never rains and in others cloud-drops are a dime a dozen.

The Hottentots are also highly different to the price of 1946 model cars since the only way to get around in their country is by ox-cart.

The Southwest African coast is a strip of land 50 miles wide which is so barren that even the sand fleas spend their lives living on half-rations.

The Hottentot men do virtually nothing but hunt and fish and have brought the art of loafing almost to perfection.

When doling up the Hottentot women smear themselves with grease and soot—thus attaining a repulsive sort of beauty.

Southwest Africa has only one redeeming feature, that we can see. In 1908 diamonds were discovered there and now numerous mines are giving up sparkles every year. Southwest Africa is it seems a diamond in the rough, the very, very rough.

TO KEEP IN JUICESA plump, golden-brown turkey, roasted to perfection, filled with savory stuffing, and flanked by rich brown gravy is traditional for the Thanksgiving dinner.To achieve this degree of perfection in the finished product, certain rules must be observed in the roasting process. There are several methods of roasting, but one factor that is very important to all is slow roasting at a low temperature.
Low heat is essential for tender juicy meat with all the flavor held in the juices.One excellent method of roasting the turkey is to wipe the fully dressed and cleaned bird inside
and out with a clean, damp cloth,
then rub the inside of the cavity
with salt and fill with your favorite stuffing. Skewer or sew the openings, tie the leg bones together,
and bend the wings behind the body. Mrs. Hollibaugh suggests wrapping the stuffed and trussed bird in cooking parchment paper or a cheesecloth wrung out of melted table fat. This wrapping makes basting unnecessary and cuts down on the loss of natural juices.For the stuffed birds, breast side down, on a rack in a dripping pan
and roast uncovered in a slow oven, 300 degrees Fahrenheit. Allow 25 minutes per pound for a bird under 12 pounds and 20 minutes per pound for a larger bird.
Half a turkey may be roasted in a similar way. Put the dressing in a larger flat pan, cover with the half turkey, cut side down, and cover with cooking parchment paper or a cheesecloth wrung out of melted table fat.Celery, onions, apples, oysters, putmeats, sauerkraut, and various herbs in suitable combinations add extra zest to the stuffing. A mixture of thyme and savory or marjoram
might be used instead of the conventional sage.

Home-Builder Denies Charge Of Profiteering

Area Rent Director McPeak Charges
Home-Builders Profiteering
On Vets

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 20.—(INS)—A Pittsburgh home-builder denied charges of area rent director C. Harold McPeak that builders are profiteering at the expense of veterans seeking new homes.

J. Howard Mitchell took issue with McPeak's statement that builders were taking advantage of veterans' willingness to "take a house at any price," citing the case of a builder advertising "priority" houses for $2000-$2300 over selling price. Mitchell declared:

"We took out a priority for these houses almost a year ago. The houses were to be frame, but good land siding could not be secured, so we built them of high-priced face brick and added a garage."

Mitchell explained that he had not used his priorities and that the houses had recently been released from priority classification, thus opening the way for non-veteran buyers to purchase at higher prices.

Shenango Comedy Ready For Friday

'High Pressure Homer' To Be Staged
At East New Castle School
By Seniors

"High Pressure Homer," a three-act comedy of family life, will be presented by the senior class of Shenango high school on Friday evening at 8 o'clock with a large cast taking part in the lively farce.

Both the students and their teacher, Mrs. Alice B. Kelso, are working hard to have the production ready for matinee performance on Thursday. The story concerns the life of the Woodruff family, all of whom are mildly eccentric, and their friend, Homer Hampden Haywood, who thinks well of himself but messes up everything he undertakes.

The role of Homer is played by Charles McGary, while the exasperated role of Mrs. Chester Woodruff, who loves to go to funerals, promises to be well handled by Dolores Montgomery.

Charles Woodruff, who loves to go to funerals, is played by Glenn Shaffer, Junior, who loves explosions. John Cochran, Junior Woodruff, who loves to eat, Eugene Bessell, Alfred, the adopted daughter who loves them all, Jane Zimuda, Zimuda, the maid who likes to get out of work, Mary Lou Eakin, Aunt Cora, who loves to complain, Beverly Kelly, Mrs. Margaret Taylor who loves to visit, Mildred Hay, Thelma Taylor, who loves to get her own way, Charlotte Young, Wade Wainwright, who loves to play golf, and Cleopatra Chubb, who loves to make people happy. Joseph McManis.

Honor Employees Of Steel Company

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 20.—(INS)—Four employees of the Allegheny Ludlum Steel Corporation were recipients of a special company award for "distinguished service and outstanding achievement," it was announced by company officials.

Vere B. Brown, vice president in charge of research, and Walter M. Patterson, manager of the electric furnace department of the Brackenridge plant, both received the Allegheny Ludlum award—consisting of the "president's medal," a certificate and $1000 cash.

David P. Bartell, chief chemist at Brackenridge and Walter Miscooski of the Brackenridge chemical laboratory divided a third award for their joint "accomplishments in reducing the time in chemical analysis of alloy steels."

Quaker City In 'Buyers' Strike

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 20.—(INS)—A poll of Philadelphia shoppers has disclosed that three out of four have gone on a buyers' strike.

Seventy-five per cent of those questioned said that they are refraining from buying things they want or need until prices drop.

A list of items Philadelphiaans are not buying put "big" things such as clothing, automobiles and household furnishings at the top, but includes butter, meat and other foods.

The poll also showed that people with higher incomes are withholding purchases more than people in average income brackets.

Here's 'Thank You' For City Officer

Policeman Jack Thompson, who was like some other members of the city police force, in service, received a nice "thank you" via Mayor John F. Haven today.

It appears from the letter of E. C. Kerr, 921 Morton street, who was in search of an address of a party he wished to locate, that Thompson performed the task courteously.

This pleased Mr. Kerr, who wrote to His Honor telling him of the courteous and efficient manner in which Thompson acted.

Greece To Make Direct Protest To U.N. Assembly

ATHENS, Nov. 20.—(INS)—The government of Premier Constantinos Tsaldaris announced officially today that it will send direct to the United Nations evidence of purported foreign interference in Greek guerrilla activity.

Tsaldaris earlier declared that guerrilla forces when pressed by government troops had retreated across the Yugoslav border under protection of Yugoslav forces.

Other officers of his government had cited Bulgaria and Albania as the sources of guerrilla infiltration.

LONDON, Nov. 20.—Reuters in a dispatch from Athens reported today that Greek rebels have launched a new attack allegedly from a point at the junction of the Greek, Bulgarian and Yugoslav borders.

Last night the Greek command ordered artillery reinforcements to northern frontier posts near Lake Doiran, a short distance from the intersection point of the frontiers.

Giant Pooch To Be In Parade

Pinocchio, a rubber train, Felix the Cat, Indians, but what's this? A dog, a fifty foot dog with three eight foot sausages which sounds like a lot of dog and a lot of sausage. Which is right.

This is the Rubber Balloon Dog, fifty feet long that is to appear in the Christmas opener parade to be held here Friday afternoon, November 22 starting at four o'clock. The parade will be this giant pooch with his king sized sausages, all filled with gas of course and not good meat.

The Rubber Balloon parade is scheduled to be nearly two miles long. It is being presented by the Merchants' Division of the Greater New Castle Association as a starter for the Christmas season.

The war is over, but the street lights which were used before the war have gone to seed, or anyway they can't be used. It is impossible to replace them now but the merchants were determined to make this Christmas season a real one. Hence the parade.

The parade starts at four o'clock from the Penn Power building on South Jefferson street. The inflated rubber balloon figures will be held down by boys from the high school. There will be six bands in the line of march and though it is only November, there will be Christmas in the air.

Combined Holiday Suggestion Favored

Okay, the 'aves' have it!

We'll combine Armistice Day, V-E Day, and V-J Day into one big holiday which everyone will celebrate together.

Sounds good, doesn't it? It did to some other people, also, when a News reporter asked them what they thought about the agitation for such a holiday.

"Golly, I suggested that a long time ago," said George Hunt of the V. P. W. "In fact, we did some agitating ourselves, and got a bill into Congress. I don't know what happened to it—got pigeonholed, I guess."

Mrs. Joseph Gillespie, executive secretary of the Lawrence County Red Cross, thinks it would be a fine idea if the day were on Monday every year. She disagreed with the American Legion's suggestion of the second Monday in August, however. "Too hot for the parades we'd have to have. Why not have it during the long stretch from New Year's to Easter, when the weather's usually too bad for parades?"

Rev. George Lambert, a Butler man who was in town for the day, thinks that Armistice Day should have been taken off the calendar anyway.

William Hodgkinson, tailor, approves of having one big holiday instead of a lot of little ones.

And Russ Baldwin, restaurant owner, says simply, "If it's a day off, I'm for it."

Mrs. Louise McConnell believes that the day would be more solemn and worthy of reverence if all the celebrations were concentrated into one.

Wed, what do you think?

Steel Progress To Be Crippled By Mine Walk-Out

Iron Age Magazine Says Substantial Progress Of Industry Will Be Undone

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—(INS)—Iron Age said today that a prolonged tieup of the nation's coal mines would "undo a substantial part of the progress made toward the establishment of a normal steel market."

The national metalworking paper continued: "Having had its first chance in the past few months to step up steel output to unprecedented peacetime levels and thus greatly reduce the tremendous unfilled demand from customers, it appears this week that the industry is about to be plunged into the period of hectic hit-and-miss production schedules and shortages which followed the steel and coal strikes earlier this year."

"Unless the coal crisis is passed quickly and a settlement reached there is the bitter possibility that the steel operating rate will not only sag to a much lower level, but will not regain current levels for two or three months, if then. The unusually high rate of activity has prevented steel firms from building up coal inventories which are now at an exceedingly low point."

"Should the coal impasse with its fundamental issues run into a long period the industry within a few weeks time may find its output rate down around 65 or 70 per cent. After that the rate would sag much lower. These severe setbacks would be brought about because of the necessity for banking blast furnaces which have been the main support for the currently high steel activity."

For those who like pie, the Union high school band's dance and social on Friday evening will be the event of the year, with the girls bringing pies as admission, and the boys bidding for them later in the evening. The fellows will share the pies with the girls who brought them after the dancing, when other refreshments will be available.

The dance which is open to the public, will start at eight o'clock in the school gymnasium. Door prizes will also add interest to the evening.

Under the chairmanship of Tom Wallace, Bob Stoughton, and Bill Ratzvasky, the dance is for the benefit of the bandmen who need new uniforms. Miss Betty Robinson is the director of the band.

Hen Lays Egg Daily On Doorstep; And Then Calls Family To Scene

Ever hear of a chicken that comes up to your doorstep, lays an egg, then proudly pecks on your door until you come out and get the egg? Ninety percent of you will say it never happened, but Mrs. R. H. Walker of 910 Temple avenue has the hen to prove it and if you don't believe this story, just stop off at the Walker home long about 8:30 tomorrow morning, and you will see the unbelievable happen.

Begins Laying On Door Step

According to the story told to a reporter by Mrs. Walker as he visited her home on Tuesday afternoon, last Easter her small son Ray Jr., purchased a small chick and not knowing much about poultry dubbed it "Mike." The chicken, which turned out to be a Barred Plymouth Rock hen kept growing until last Monday, a week ago, it began laying eggs.

Of course the hen didn't do like ordinary chickens and lay her eggs in a nice soft nest, no sir, it believed in accommodating those who had taken care of it since last April. About 8:30 on that eventful morning, Mrs. Walker heard the family's pet chicken pecking and pecking on the back door and they wondered what was up.

Investigating, they discovered that the friendly hen had deposited an egg right on the back door step and was informing the Walker's to come out and retrieve it.

Repeats Performance

Thinking it only a coincidence, the family thought little of the incident and dismissed it from their mind. At approximately the same time the next morning, the same thing occurred and has been happening every morning since.

Mrs. Walker showed the reporter several of the eggs as evidence of what "Mike" was doing and invited him back the next morning to "see for yourself."

According to Mrs. Walker, the hen refuses to leave the back door step until the egg is taken safely inside the home.

Mrs. Walker showed the reporter several of the eggs, the shells broken of course from their drop, but mute evidence of what "Mike" was doing and invited him back for a grandstand seat tomorrow morning.

Rural Health Session Topic At State Meeting

HARRISBURG, Nov. 20.—(INS)—Discussions on rural health and safety were slated to highlight the second session today of the Public Health Institute in Harrisburg.

Speakers will include T. E. Transeau, director of the State Bureau of Highway Safety; E. M. Gearhart, home safety consultant for the National Safety Council; Dr. F. S. Crockett, chairman of the Rural Health committee of the American Medical association; and Dr. William G. Mather, rural sociology professor of Pennsylvania State college.

The State Health department's rheumatic fever control program was outlined during the opening session by Dr. E. E. Shifferstine, chief of the rheumatic fever division.

He reported that 666 cases were under observation in the state's rheumatic fever clinics at Altoona, Erie, Williamsport, Harrisburg and Allentown in line with the state's new program.

The state hoped to provide hospital, convalescent or foster home care for stricken persons, Shifferstine said.

Approximately one and a half per cent of youths under 21 have rheumatic manifestations, he pointed out. Sixty-six per cent of the persons stricken were between 5 and 14 years of age, he added.

Tourmalines are found on our west coast, in South Africa, the Ural, Brazil, Madagascar, and Siberia.

Divorce Case Is Sensational

George Raft Denies Charges Made In Connection With Borin Divorce Trial

CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—(INS)—Nathan Borin, millionaire Chicago art products manufacturer, and his wife, Claire, who once was a runnerup in a "panther woman" contest, were scheduled to go into another round of their sensational divorce case today.

Each is suing the other for divorce on grounds of adultery.

Yesterday, Attorney Joseph Harrington, Borin's counsel, accused the 37-year-old, attractive Mrs. Borin of having once spent the night in a New York hotel with George Raft, movie actor who specializes in "tough guy" film roles.

Brings Raft's Name In
Harrington brought Raft's name into the case in his opening statement to a jury hearing the Borins' suit and counter-suit. He said:

"I will prove through testimony of Claire Borin's own sister that on a trip to New York the sister awoke during the night in her Sherry-Netherlands room, went to Claire's room and found her there with a man, Charles Rogers."

We will show by this sister's testimony that on the same trip Claire spent an entire night with George Raft, also at the Sherry-Netherlands."

Michael Romano, another attorney for Borin, said the "George Raft" referred to was the movie actor.

Counter Charges
Mrs. Borin's attorney, James McDermott, countered by asserting that during the 13 years of the Borins' married life, Borin was the offender in affairs with women. McDermott asserted:

"My client, a good mother and a faithful wife has been the victim of a tragic and unhappy marriage."

"Her husband has been guilty of misconduct and every time she brought action against him he reconciled her with false promises."

The divorce trial is the first to materialize, although three others were started. The principals have said that this trial is "hot keeps."

Raft Denies Charges
In Hollywood, Raft flatly denied Attorney Harrington's charge, declaring:

"I have known her (Mrs. Borin) and her family for 15 years. I was in New York when she was in New York. I saw her as I'd see any friend."

"There never has been anything more than a friendly relation between us."

The Borins have one child, a daughter, Bonnie Joy, born in 1941.

Feuding Unions Called By Martin To Settle 'War'

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 20.—(INS)—Officials of the feuding AFL and CIO unions in Pittsburgh's jurisdictional "beer war" today were scheduled to confer with Governor Edward Martin at Harrisburg in an attempt to find an amicable settlement to their controversy.

However, prior to leaving for the meeting, hopes for a settlement of the dispute were dimmed when Lester M. Hunt, spokesman for the AFL, accused CIO Regional Director Anthony C. Federoff of putting Gov. Martin "on the spot."

Federoff has asked Martin to take the place of State Secretary of Labor William H. Chesnut "because the thing has become too big for him to settle."

Hunt charged that Federoff, by his action, was "tampering in the beer war" and he would do anything to help settle the issue, over control of Brewery Workers.

WHAT WE HAVE and WHAT WE LACK

WE HAVE ALMOST ALL IT TAKES to provide the world's finest telephone service to anyone who wants it anywhere in the territory we serve.

We have the will and the skill, the experience and the organization, and, in addition, the co-operation of the public.

We have a head start on the job to be done.

One thing, however, is missing:

Like so many other American industries, we lack the vast quantities of equipment we must have to see the job through.

Basic materials essential to our industry—cotton yarn, rayon, brass, lead, steel, plastics, and lumber, to name a few—are still inadequate to meet the needs of those who make the equipment to meet our needs.

This means fewer switchboards, relays, coils, motors, generators, and control apparatus than we must have...and less switchboard cable, cords, and wire than we need.

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY OF PENNSYLVANIA

In spite of everything and anything...in spite of shortages...in spite of unprecedented new demand...in spite of many handicaps entirely beyond our control, we are breaking previous records.

This winter and next spring, for example, we'll make huge additions to our Pennsylvania plant. We'll spend millions more of the 150 millions that we plan to spend for our expansion program. We'll provide enough new facilities to take a big bite out of our waiting lists and to make telephone service available to thousands who are waiting.

Make no mistake about it—we're making great progress toward providing telephone service for anyone who wants it, toward providing better and better telephone service for everyone who uses it, and toward adding new services for all.

end, with a good attendance. Henry Hamilton was in charge. Fred Westlich was high scorer.

After an enjoyable evening the group adjourned to a suburban tea room for lunch.

Next social meeting of the class will be a Christmas dinner and party on Friday evening, December 13, in the church dining room, with Mr. and Mrs. Wendell McClurg as hosts.

Speculate On Duff's Cabinet

Some Of Governor Martin's Cabinet May Be Retained
As Capitol Report

OTHER NEWS OF STATE CAPITAL

HARRISBURG, Nov. 20.—(INS)—Chief topic of speculation at the state capital since the general election November 5 has concerned the cabinet of Attorney General James H. Duff, Republican governor-elect. Duff, who will be inaugurated January 21, plans to take a 10-day Florida vacation and was not expected to name any members of his cabinet before November 25. There have been unofficial reports that Duff would retain "five or six" members of Gov. Edward Martin's official family. The most persistent report has it that Lt. Gov. John C. Bell of Wynnewood will be named to the attorney general post.

Other cabinet members whom many chieftains predict will be retained included State Police Commissioner C. M. Wilhelm, Secretary of Revenue David W. Harris, Secretary of Banking William C. Freeman of Cornwall, Secretary of Agriculture Miles Hoot of Palmyra and Superintendent of Public Instruction Francis B. Haas of Bloomsburg. One reason many chieftains have forecast that Harris would be held in office was the overwhelming Republican majorities registered in Philadelphia where Harris is city chairman.

A strong movement to have Duff re-appoint William H. Chesnut of Philadelphia, secretary of labor and industry, has been reported at the state house. There has, however, been some opposition to Chesnut, especially from Philadelphia. On the other hand, some leaders have predicted that David Williams of Harrisburg may be moved up from an assistant secretaryship to the department's main office. Williams had been an AFL officer for many years.

Drives to have Duff rename two county chairmen to their cabinet posts have been reported. Supporters were said to be booming Ray F. Smock of Meadville, Crawford county, as secretary of highways. Smock was named to the post by Gov. Edward Martin last March 21 following the dismissal of John U. Shover. The other cabinet officer whose followers were reported as urging his retention was Secretary of Forests and Waters James A. Keel of New Alexandria, Westmoreland county.

According to unofficial reports, James P. Malone of Pittsburgh, Allegheny county Republican chairman, may be appointed as secretary of property and supplies. Duff and Malone had been at odds politically for years but settled their differences during the 1946 primary campaign.

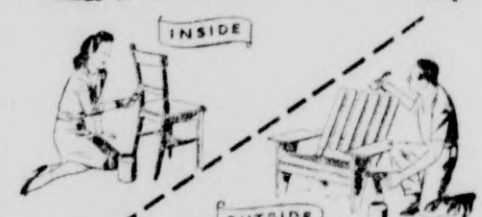

A campaign boosting House Majority Leader Franklin H. Lichtenwalter of Center Valley for the speakership of the lower chamber has been intensified at the state house. Several assemblies have predicted that Lichtenwalter, majority leader since 1943, would win the $4000-a-biennium post in what they termed "a breeze". However, there have been reports that Ir. T. Fias of Shamokin Dam may seek a third term. Should Lichtenwalter be named speaker, many leaders believe that Rep. Herbert P. Sorg of St. Marys would be elevated to the house majority leadership.

Assemblymen have been cautious in predicting the possible length of the 137th regular session of the General Assembly which will open January 7. Some leaders have said they believed the session could be ended in four months but readily concede that it may last five or six months because of the importance of legislation such as a veterans bonus and housing, to be considered by lawmakers.

Why Was Red Feather Worn In Chest Drive?

Why did we wear a red feather during the Community Chest campaign? This question was asked The News today and has to be answered, of course.

The idea seems to have started

"in days of old when knights were bold, and barons held their sway". When a knight went out to do battle, all dressed up like a traveling hardware store, his lady fair, the light of his life if you please, usually gave him her scarf to wind around his helmet. Thus began the idea of hat bands for men's hats.

Later it seems, and upon this point we cannot offer you unqualified substantiation, a winning knight was given a colored feather to put into scarf hat band.

Out of this custom came the quotation concerning any one who had done some worth while action, "that's a feather in his hat". Hence the feather in the hat became the symbol of achievement, of victory, of outstanding performance. But the feather had to be colored, usually red. A white feather denoted cowardice.

So there it is, boys and girls, we all wore a red feather in our hats during the Community Chest campaign because donating to the chest was and is considered the right thing to do. And apparently it all started back when young men dressed up in sheet steel to go out and tilt some gent off a horse. As you can see, a woman is at the bottom of it all.

TOO GOOD

It is not very often that people are accused of being too good. However, there is danger of a child being too good or at least too quiet. A normal child is active, inquisitive and somewhat troublesome. Normal children want to investigate things and places. They want to associate with other children. They have a mind of their own. They want their own way. They insist on their likes and dislikes. When a child is overly quiet and does not want to play with other children, there may be something wrong. Sometimes the trouble is in the child and sometimes in the training it gets. Docility is good for an ox or a donkey but a child can have too much of it. A Mamma's boy may have too much Mamma or too little of something else. A girl without any spunk needs help. ERIE—Carl Mangold quit his zoo-keeper's post six months ago and went to California leaving many animal friends behind. Army To Battle For Huge Funds To Lay Defenses

Wary Of Portended Slashes In Budget, War Department To Enter Sound Argument

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—(INS)—The Army squared away Tuesday for a vigorous defense in Congress of the billions of dollars price tag on national security. War department officials, apprehensive of sizable slashes in the 1948 fiscal year military budget, are expected to lead off with three major arguments when the 80th Congress convenes. These are: Unless Russia makes drastic cuts in the Soviet military budget the United States can not hope to keep pace with the Red Army. Approximately one billion dollars marked up as Army-Navy expenditures represent appropriations for activities that contribute nothing to military strength.

Urgent Unification
Billions of dollars could be saved by unification of the armed forces, thus eliminating necessity of a large budget cut.

It was pointed out that while Russia assertedly plans to cut the Soviet armament budget this year 54 per cent under last year, the slash in this nation's actual expenditures this calendar year as compared with the last is 71 per cent.

Those cuts were said to leave the Russian budget for purely military purposes one-third larger than the current military budget of the United States, even with the exclusion of armament expenditures contained in the Soviet five year plan.

It was emphasized that the actual figure attributable to national defense by both the Army and Navy is 10 billion dollars rather than 28 billion because included in the latter is 17 billions that represent the cost of paying for past wars and one bill in for the following:

List Expenses
Government and relief in occupied areas, 600 million; preparation of property for disposal, 105 million; services to other government agencies, including air mail and air passengers, 75 million.

Other expenses of this type, 75 million. This brings the total to duties performed by the Army which are unrelated to military strength to more than $800,000,000. The Navy's non-military activities cost around 200 million.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, army chief of staff, has pledged that the army will make every effort to operate as efficiently as possible under the economy program, but the general said if he found himself in the position of "playing Notre Dame with grade school boys" he would ask for help.

Mrs. Dale Houk Addresses Lions

Mrs. Dale Houk, wife of the president of Slippery Rock State Teachers college, addressed the Lions club at their luncheon meeting Tuesday in The Castleton hotel. Mrs. Houk centered her talk around the subject "Problems of Young People" and drew from her experiences as personnel director for women at the Edgewater Steel company in Oakmont, Pa., during the war. She urged a strong program for the education and guidance of young people during their formative years so that they can adjust themselves to industry and business.

Financial report of the club-sponsored play, "Life with Father" revealed that the net receipts for the organization totaled $824.35. It was also announced that there will be a director's meeting Thursday.

B. O. Wicks of South Akron was a guest at Tuesday's meeting.

WEDDING EXPENSES

"Please outline the wedding expenses of both the bride and the groom."

Answer: Bride's expenses: All of her clothes and linens included in her trousseau; all costs of invitations and announcements; her gift to the bridegroom, if she chooses to give him one; her gifts to her attendants, as well as their bouquets (which may be a gift from the bride's mother); all expenses incidental to the reception, such as music, decorations, refreshments, rental of hotel rooms for reception purposes, awnings at the door of the home or of the church; fees to church organist and soloist (if any); church decorations; motors to carry the bridal party to and from the church. Bridegroom's expenses: The bride's engagement and wedding rings, of course; a wedding present for the bride, which should be something for her personal use; corsages for his own mother and the mother of the bride; his bachelor dinner; the marriage license fee; gifts to the best man and the ushers, as well as their wedding ties, gloves, boutonnieres; his own boutonniere; the clergyman's fee; the bride's bouquet; all expenses of the wedding trip, including the automobile conveying him and his bride to the railroad station. It is may be the car in which he drove with the best man to the church. Of course, if the bride's family has a private car, they may use it for this purpose. Frequently the bridegroom, rather than the bride's mother, supplies the bridesmaids' bouquets and the bride supplies the boutonnieres of the ushers.

Question: My fiancé lives several hundred miles away. Is it proper for him to stay at my home and share a room with my brother? Also, I am planning a quiet wedding. Must I carry a purse or are gloves sufficient?

Answer: It is perfectly proper for your fiancé to spend the weekend at your home when your parents are there. Gloves are optional. Do not carry a bag.

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly mail personal replies to questions from readers enclosing stamped self-addressed envelopes.

Seeks Patent On Artificial Arm

F. P. Simpson Develops Arm And Hand That May Prove Boon To Many

Persons who have lost a hand by accident or war may soon be wearing an artificial hand which will permit them to shift gears of an automobile, write with pen or pencil and do many other things. F. P. Simpson of 210 Edison avenue has developed an artificial hand which he is proving to himself is workable for he lost his right hand many years ago.

Mr. Simpson first took a cast of a right hand, then made a mold and filled the mold with molten metal. The mold was placed on a movable device placed on the aluminum brace to which the hand is attached.

Artificial hands have been manufactured before with movable thumbs but usually there was a cumbersome strap attachment which went over the shoulder. In Mr. Simpson's artificial hand there is none of that.

He has applied for patents upon the hand and expects to further develop the idea by using plastic instead of aluminum for the hand.

Return Of Meat Forces Prices Of Turkeys To Drop

CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—(INS)—Housewives were promised a break today in the price of turkeys, both for their Thanksgiving Day and Christmas dinners.

Poultry dealers revealed that new supplies of meat following the end of price controls have forced the price of turkeys to dip below the old OPA ceilings for the birds.

On Oct. 1, during the meat famine, young hen turkeys were quoted at 50 cents a pound. Young toms under 20 pounds sold at 44 cents and those over 20 pounds sold at 40 cents.

Then on Oct. 15, as meat controls were removed, young hens dropped 5 cents a pound. A month later the official live poultry quotes on turkeys were young hens 40 to 41 cents; young toms under 20 pounds, 31 to 32 cents; those over 20 pounds, 27 to 28 cents.

Now, with 79,150,000 pounds of turkey in cold storage, compared with 42,722,000 pounds last year, observers predicted a further drop in prices.

Man Raises His Arms Above His Head for First Time in Years

A few days ago a man said the rheumatic pains in his arms and shoulders disappeared and now he can raise his arms above his head for the first time in years. He said the pains he used to have from this rheumatism were simply awful. Sometimes his knees and hips were stiff and sore, but the pains were mostly in the back of his neck and across his shoulders. Now, however, his suffering is entirely gone and he says the change is due to taking RRU-AID. "Oh! What relief!" states this man. "Why don't other rheumatic sufferers get RRU-AID?"

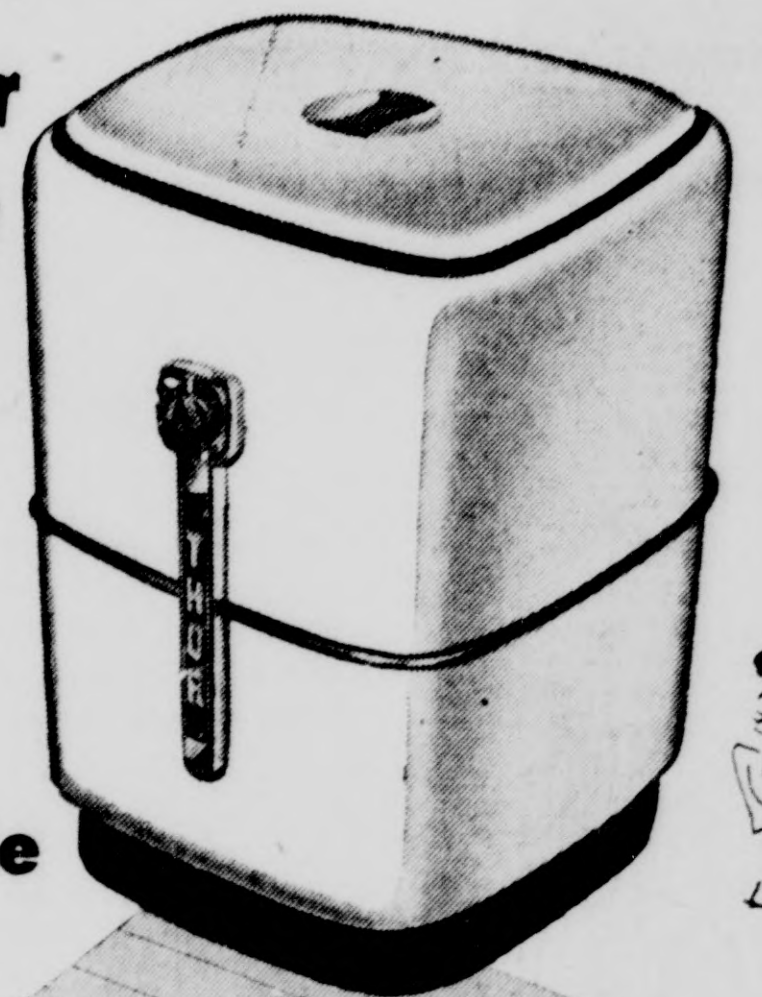

RRU-AID is a new formula. It contains Three Great Ingredients, so it is almost like taking three medicines in one. It goes right to the source of rheumatic aches and pains. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Get RRU-AID. Sold by All Drug Stores here in New Castle.

Oil Pipelines Bids Rejected

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—(INS)—Lieut. Gen. Robert M. Littlejohn, war assets administrator, disclosed today that all 16 bids for the purchase of the "big inch" and "little inch" oil pipelines have been rejected by the government.

Littlejohn told the House Surplus Property committee that the bidders will be informed that the amount of money they offered for the two war-constructed pipelines was insufficient in his opinion.

He revealed that WAA appraisers have set a current value of 113 million, 700 thousand dollars on the two lines, which have not been in use for more than a year, begun at Longview and Beaumont, Tex., and terminate in the Philadelphia-New York area.

Littlejohn revealed also that in view of a change in attitude by the Army and Navy Petroleum board, equal consideration will now be given to bids from natural gas syndicates. The two lines cost the government in the neighborhood of 140 million dollars.

Littlejohn declared that in his opinion the government should receive "somewhere within shooting range of the appraised valuation." The WAA head said letters would soon go out to the 16 bidders, almost equally divided between gas and petroleum interests asking that they submit new bids.

The town of Marblehead, Mass., was settled in 1629 by emigrants from the east and south of England, and later by people from the islands of Jersey and Guernsey. Marblehead was under the jurisdiction of Salem until 1649, when it was incorporated as a separate town. At one time it ranked next to Boston in its maritime and fishing trade.

Reports Grandfather Planted Sycamore On Public Square

A photograph in The News recently of a photograph of the old sycamore tree, which is enclosed by an iron fence on the Public Square and where Pak-An-Kee, chief of the Delaware Indians, is reported to have held council years ago, recalls to W. S. Moore, North Beaver street, a pioneer of Lawrence county, that his grandfather, William Moore, who came here from Middletown, O., in 1842, planted the tree in 1844. Five other sycamores were planted at the same time. They came from along Big Run where ex-Senator George T. Weingartner now resides. "I can yet remember when three of them stood 70 years ago," Mr. Moore told a News reporter today. Mr. Moore also stated that his grandfather was the first squire elected in Lawrence county and added that his grandfather was the first insurance agent for property, which was about 100 years ago. Incidentally, Mr. Moore, who has been engaged in the fire-insurance business for a long time, also was a circus man in his day, and is a member of the Circus Fans of America, membership being confined to only those who have the interest of the circus at heart. At one time the Bob Hunting circus wintered on the Nassau road property, where the Nassau quarry is located.

Charge Boy Forced Parents From Home

MERCER, Pa., Nov. 20.—(INS)—State police reported today that Harry Spindler, Jr., 15, forced his parents and three brothers and sisters from their home at rifle-point after being refused an increase in his allowance. Police said they broke down the front door of the home and the boy surrendered without resistance. He was held for juvenile court.

Local Plant Giving Big Aid To Santa

Toys always did fascinate us men, especially the larger mechanical type that was bought for Junior but winding up with Dad getting more use out of it than the kids. This Christmas youngsters of this city and other cities throughout the country are going to receive some mechanical toys that will make some of the toys that the kids received some ten or twelve years ago look sick. ing with the simple homemade equipment, with the exception of a couple of drill presses, jigs and a spot welder, and started turning out the interesting and different toy crane, the first shipment of which went out the last of October.

At present, the 31 men and women, who are operating two shifts, are manufacturing 600 of the mechanical toys daily, which are being shipped to all the large department stores throughout the country. The little "true to life" designed crane, which weighs only 25 ounces, is novel in the fact that it is equipped with a standard flashlight battery which carries the "juice" to the magnet on the end, enabling the crane to lift any other toy of two pounds or less from the ground.

The firm at the present time is using only half of the available space in the large building on Sampson street and as soon as raw materials are released, expansion will get under way and more toys of various designs will be manufactured to bring enjoyment to the homes of America. JOHNSTOWN—The Peoples Natural Gas company's janitors look forward to winter with considerable relief. The utility has installed a system of "radiant heating" to remove the snow from its sidewalks.

CHILDREN OF WAR DEAD TO RECEIVE EDUCATION FUNDS

TRENTON, N. J., Nov. 20.—(INS)—Charles R. Erdman, Jr., commissioner of the State Department of Economic Development, today revealed the state of New Jersey will pay up to $150 annually for four years to help pay educational expenses for each boy and girl whose parent died in military service during World Wars I and II, or who died after the war as the result of military service. Payment of the amounts to New Jersey's war orphans was authorized by the legislature, Commissioner Erdman said. The term war orphan indicates a natural, adopted or step-child whose one parent died during, or as a result of, active military service. The second parent may or may not be living.

EDUCATION PARLEY
HARRISBURG, Nov. 20.—(INS)—Final preparations were being made today for the annual two-day state education congress opening at Harrisburg tomorrow. Superintendent of Public Instruction Francis B. Haas estimated that between 400 and 600 administrative and supervisory officials would attend the sessions. Principal speakers will be Gen. Jacob L. Devers, of York, chief of the army ground forces, and Gen. Edward Martin.

Quiz Actress In Huge Swindle

Sally Haines To Answer Questions About Key Figure In Linotype Company Scandal

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—(INS)—Sally Haines, strawberry blonde Hollywood actress was to appear in the office of District Attorney Miles McDonald again today to answer questions about Jimmy Collins, key figure in the $724,000 Mergenthaler Linotype swindle.

Collins has been pictured by police as the "master mind" in the huge embezzlement which has resulted in the arrest of five men including William Arthur Nickel, former cashier of the Linotype company.

Miss Haines told the district attorney that she had been married six times and that she was "friends with all her ex-husbands except one who was dead."

She said she had known Collins for a year and that he had "taken her to all the best places." She said she had never discussed business matters with him and was surprised when Charles Morrison, manager of the new Stables night club in Palm Springs, Calif., had given her a receipt for $17,500. She said Collins had asked her to pick up the receipt but that she was surprised to see that it was made out in her name. She said she thought it was a receipt for money Collins had invested in the club.

Her Own Money
Miss Haines said that $5,400 in cash found in a safety deposit box in a New York bank was "her own money."

McDonald said he would re-question Miss Haines concerning her bank and brokerage accounts.

Later, Miss Haines was interviewed and asked if she liked California and the movies replied:
"I like California but I don't know whether they like me. But I don't think I will continue my movie career."

As to her plans for the future she said:
"Well I don't know. Maybe I'll get married for the seventh time and settle down. I love men."

City Garbage Burned Without Use Of Coal

Merely mention the word garbage or refuse as we might more politely term it and many residents of New Castle, especially the fairer sex, begin to shiver and hunt a more pleasant subject.

A roving reporter desirous of seeing the inner workings of the City of New Castle Incinerator plant away out there on Sampson street, took a stroll in that direction, and introduced himself to Howard O. Phillips, the pleasing superintendent of the plant for the past 20 years or more.

No Offensive Smells
Upon approaching the plant where one would expect to find numerous unpleasant odors due to the nature of the work that must be carried on in the building, this reporter received quite a surprise at the lack of any offensive smells. No sign of garbage or waste matter was in sight and the inside of the building was neatly kept.

Just as the interview with the superintendent began, one of the city's five large garbage trucks drove in time for your reporter to see just how the bulky waste matter of the homes of New Castle is disposed of. Backing up to the large covered holes, where the garbage was to be dumped for burning, one of the plant employees turned on the draft in order to create a hotter fire to receive the damp waste which was to be received by the large furnaces.

One of the big surprises that this reporter received was to see the amount of hidden unburnable material, such as tin cans and glass that came in every load. Many housewives wrap up bottles, yes milk bottles and numerous tin cans in their garbage causing much extra work for the plant handlers. The glass and cans are salvaged as far as possible, but many get through to the furnace.

No Coal Needed
Outstanding at the furnace was the fact that no coal is used in burning the debris that is brought into the plant daily in multitudinous lots by the city owned trucks and outside trucks. Some cardboard and a few wooden packing boxes at times are used to "prop" up the blaze. In case the plant ever did get stuck and the fire wouldn't burn, outside are piles of battery cases which can be used in cases of emergency to get the fire blazing brightly.

At no time during the disposal of the load of garbage were there any offensive odors and soon as the truck pulled away, the men immediately swept the droppings into the pit so that they would not attract any vermin or other animals.

Less Garbage Now
Superintendent Phillips reported that the amount of garbage being disposed of at the present time is much less than in the late summer, when the haulers are kept very busy. For example, the superintendent pointed out that the average haul during this month amounts to 24 loads a day by city trucks. During the past month, 122 tons were brought to the plant by outside trucks.

In July, one of the peak garbage months, 694 tons of garbage from the city was brought to the plant by the city trucks while 102 tons were hauled in by private trucks. City garbage workers are now paid on a tonnage basis instead of by the hour. At present there are 21 men employed at the plant.

Whenever the garbage haulers catch up on the waste about the city, rather than stay idle, they haul the cans and bottles away from the city homes, thus relieving housewives of the necessity of burying their cans in the garbage.

Snyder Parries Income Queries

Secretary Of Treasury Spends 15 Minutes With News Reporters Asking About Reductions

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—(INS)—Secretary of the Treasury Snyder spent a hectic 15 minutes at his news conference Monday parrying income tax reduction questions.

Reporters hammered repeatedly on this theme:

"Can the 20 per cent cut proposed by Sen. Taft (R) Ohio be effected without damage to the nation's economy?"

Snyder at first parried the query by inviting newsmen to "answer it for me" and later settled for "no comment."

He said the treasury would not present a tax bill to the new Republican congress, but would consult with the house ways and means committee on such a measure.

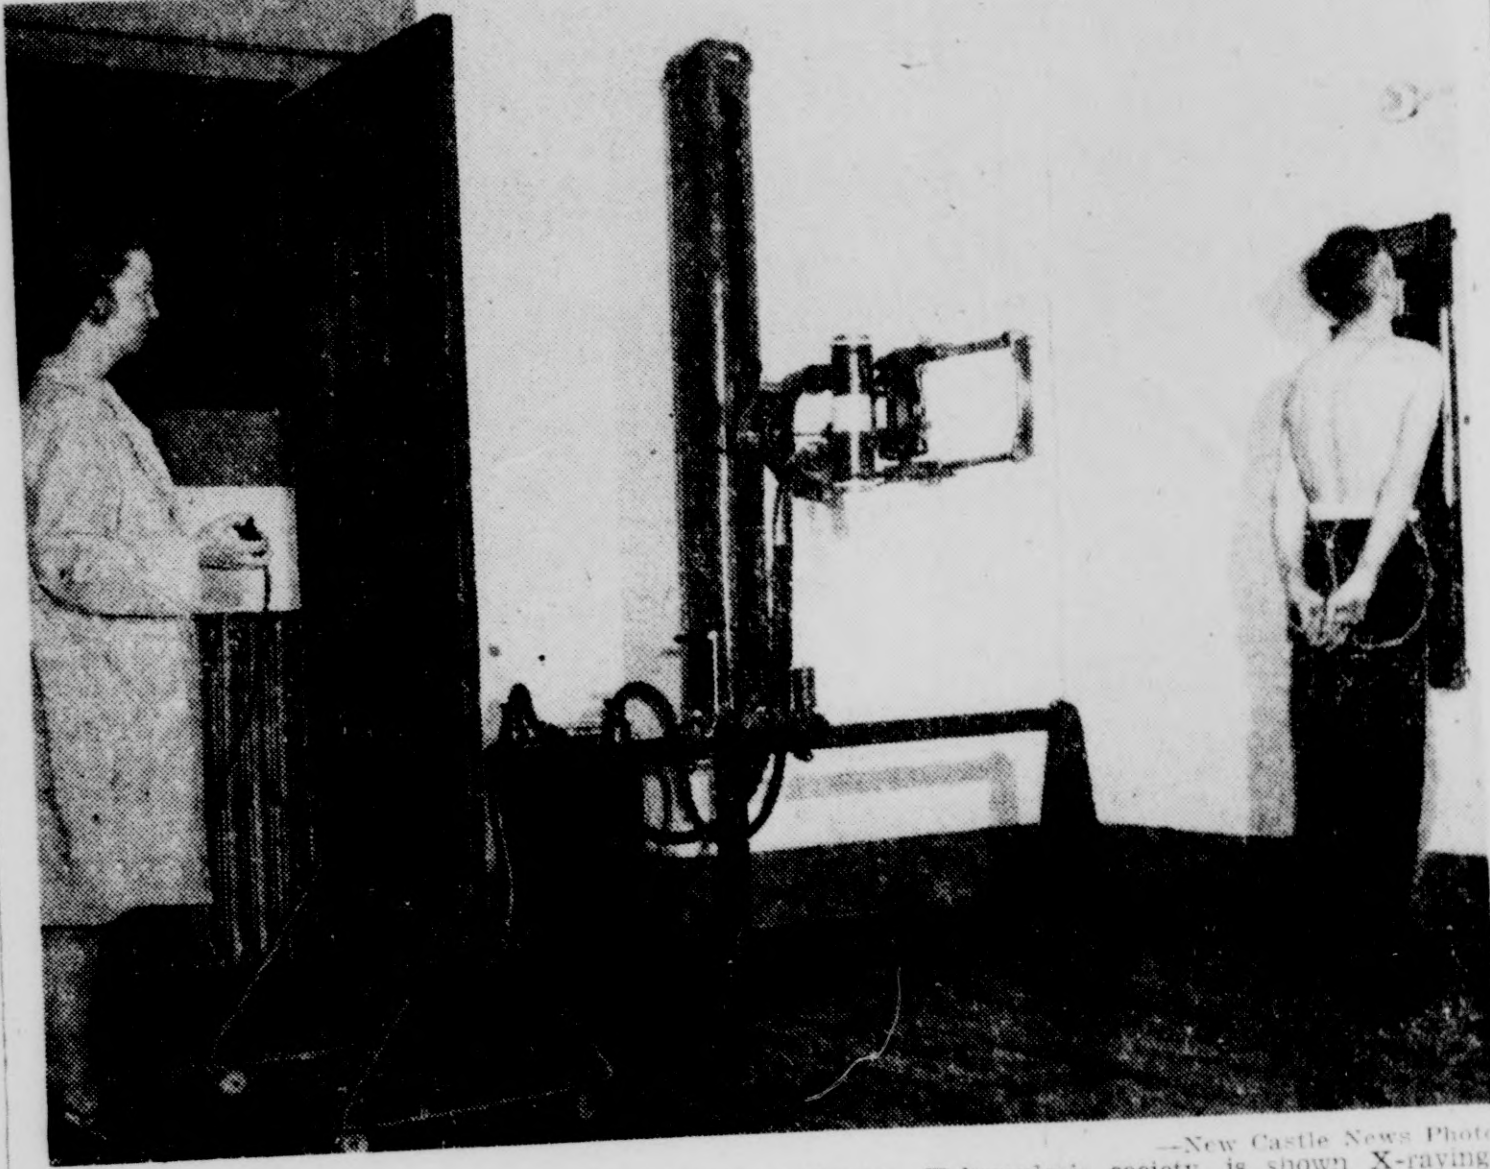

Sees Co-operation
As for co-operation with the Republicans on tax reduction, the secretary pointed out that President Truman had promised that the administration would work with the majority party for the nation's welfare.

The treasury chief's "no comment" was especially emphatic when he was asked concerning the prospect of elimination of wartime excise taxes on furs, gems, transportation, liquor, telephone service and other items.

Snyder added, however, that he might have something to say on tax matters "next week" and declared it was his policy to "reduce government expenditures as much as prudently possible."

Nearly 700,000,000 pounds of used furs were recovered in the four-year period from August, 1942 to July 1946.

Following this phase of the diagnosis the patients are referred to their family physicians for treatment and if they cannot afford this they are treated through the State Clinic, of which there is a branch in the city. The new machine is located on the second floor of the city building annex, on East street.

VFW 'Cooties' Sponsor Entertainment At Butler Hospital For Veterans Tuesday

Hoping to secure the backing of the people of New Castle through their various clubs, fraternities, church and social groups, the VFW held the first of a series of "New Castle nights" Tuesday evening at Deshon hospital in Butler, which was attended by the largest crowd of hospitalized veterans which has ever taken part in an affair in the hospital recreation hall.

This entertainment was sponsored by Pup Tent 25 of the Military Order of the Cooties, who are planning to seek the cooperation of other groups in carrying out this program.

Prizes for the Tuesday evening entertainment were donated by merchants of New Castle. George Christoph is the hospital chairman of the Pup Tent, the seam squirrel (commander) is George E. Hunt.

Within a short time, the hospital expects to be caring for 1,000 men, for whom recreation will be essential. The Cooties were told. About ten local men are now at the hospital.

Pup Tent 25 is now planning a dance at the hospital during the middle of January, with about 100 girls from New Castle attending.

Trans-World Air Company Making Sweeping Lay-Offs

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 20.—(INS)—Sweeping discharges of employees were reported in all departments of Trans-World Air Lines today as operations were getting back to normal after a crippling strike by the Air Lines Pilots association.

Reports indicated that 2,000 or more employees in the Kansas City area have been discharged since the back-to-work call was issued.

John H. Clemson, regional manager for TWA, said that the company's midwest office and operations staff has been called back to work at full strength. Numerous employees in other departments have been given notice that they will be discharged at the end of a two-week period.

Another TWA spokesman said that no complete system-wide report of personnel cutbacks was available as yet as it has not yet been determined how many employees have taken other jobs.

Meanwhile, TWA and the International Association of Machinists Union named a four-man board of arbitration to settle a company-union dispute.

The union contends that TWA owes ten days pay for summary

lay-off without warning to some 6,000 association members who were furloughed during the recent strike by pilots of the line.

Big Nine Conference Champions Assured Rose Bowl Bid

Pacific-Big Nine Pact Puts Freeze On Army Chances

Either Illinois Or Michigan Headed For New Year's Day Classic On Coast

UCLA-USC WINNER TO BE OPPONENT

BERKELEY, Cal., Nov. 20.—(INS)—The Big Nine and Pacific Coast football conferences voted an immediate five-year Rose Bowl game tieup today, thus freezing any chances that Army will play in the gridiron classic next New Year's Day.

The five-year pact was announced as the conclusion of a lengthy conference between representatives of the western conference and the Pacific Coast conference at Berkeley.

Defendants on Saturday

Effect of the pact will mean in all probability this year's Rose Bowl contestants will be either Illinois or Michigan and winner of the UCLA-USC game next Saturday.

Representatives of the Big Nine led the fight against Army, with the aid of a coalition from the Pacific conference. Losing in the battle was a group headed by UCLA and USC.

The two conferences agreed to a 3-2 plan, which calls for each conference to designate its Rose Bowl team from within the conference for the first three years.

Several Loopholes

In the last two years of the agreement, the Big Nine may name a competitor which may or may not be a member of the Western Conference, subject to approval of and invitation by the Coast conference.

Under the 3-2 plan, if the two conferences can not mutually agree on a nomination by the Western conference during the last two years, the Western conference will designate one of its own members as the Rose Bowl team.

It was learned that although Illinois and Minnesota voted against a five-year pact when the subject was brought up by Western conference leaders earlier this month, the two universities will bow to the will of the majority.

Interim Committee

The Rose Bowl pact calls for creation of an interim committee, composed of commissioners and repre-

Penguins Coming To Battle Stars

Youngstown College Quint Will Play Locals At 'Y' Gymnasium Friday Night

Frank Reed's "Y" All-Stars, who

scared Westminster's "Tall Titans" Monday evening, will get their second dose of collegiate opposition Friday night when they match their skill with the Youngstown college Penguins.

This is the second such exhibition tilt arranged by Jimmy Darr, physical director at the Y. M. C. A., and ensuing battles will see the Geneva "Covies", the Slippery Rock "Rockets" and the Salem West, Va. team playing the locals here.

Snack previews of these college fives provide fine shows for the fans and if the Stars continue the play they demonstrated Monday against the Titans, some crack-jack scraps are in the offing.

Reed has the makings of a fine team in the "Pro" boys, "Lefty" Turner, Bill Erce, Jackson, Janyal, and others and such a combination will give the visiting schools more than "warm-up" practice.

Prelim Game

It was announced that there will be a preliminary game at seven o'clock preceding the main 9 p.m. tip-off.

Tip-off for the second game will be at 8:15. There will be a slight admission charge.

Sixty horses were sold for a total of $241,100.

The second highest price of $13,100 was paid for a bay filly by Transmute out of Scotch Maid and Bunting.

The third highest was $10,200 for a bay colt by Stage Hand out of Bracing by Sir Galahad III.

Russell 'Buster' Houk Wins Race In Florida

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Carr of 205 North Walnut street, have received word that Russell W. (Buster) Houk of Miami, Fla., formerly of this city, on Armistice Day won the 67-mile outboard motorboat race from West Palm Beach to Miami, Fla., to capture the $2,500 A. M. Castle trophy, in the first annual event.

Houk's time was an hour and 48 minutes, two seconds ahead of the second contestant. About 20 drivers competed. Houk's boat was equipped with a 50 horse power motor. His wife rode in the boat with him.

Russell is a son of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Houk, former residents of this city. About a year ago, Russell was stricken with an attack of spinal meningitis. His hobby is building boats.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

AFTER having seen Bill Bradley and Homer Dougherty, middles, engaged in a battle of Lefts recently, Here & There inquired of Bill's dad: "What was the matter with his right?" to which came the answer: "He bruised it in training." However, the one right Bill did let fly in the third, felled Homer. He got up then went down again without being struck. The referee should have disqualified him. However, it is as well he didn't, because the next punch was a left hook that dropped Dougherty again and the third round was over. Bradley landed his jabber, well, moved fast and was aggressive. His action recalled his father, Mickie Solomon, when "Mick" was at himself. He could rip cuts above an eye with a rapier left, crash a right cross with dynamic force to the jaw and step around like nobody's business. In the opinion of Here & There, the classiest little knight on the menu was Eddie Eddington. He was in action less than a round but he showed himself to be a master amateur. When he put on the gloves, he was a different man. Al Moyer downed the second time the bout was stopped. . . . Members of the Union Township Athletic Association will meet tonight in Scotland Lane school. . . . Reports state some nice large mouth are being taken from Sugar Lake. . . . In the second round of the Hyde-Medwick bout Monday night, Medwick brushed back his forelocks, and as he did the Slippery Rock College student nailed a right upon his chin. . . . Bill Jolly, former promoter of boxing in the Jolly bowl, has enrolled with the New Castle Boosters club. . . . Bill Vecek, owner of the Cleveland Indians, who recently became a supporter of an injury sustained in service, has invited Here & There to attend a "get together" of newspapermen at the Hollenden, Cleveland, next Sunday evening where there will be a dinner at which "Spud" Goldstein, Indians public relations director, will speak.

Johnny McKibben, who served with the artillery in World War I, is in the Jameson Memorial hospital, with eye trouble. Johnny, or "Major", as his friends address him, had a cataract removed a year or two ago. The other eye became infected and it was operated upon. Years ago he was a masseur for ball players and boxers and was known near and far. While he may not be able to read a post-card sent to him, will be read to him by a nurse. . . . Francis Keefe, South Mill street businessman, has enrolled with the New Castle Boosters club. He has been a booster for sports and civic undertakings ever since he came to New Castle some 30 years ago. . . . Boxing attendance in Pittsburgh, Youngstown and here has shown a drop and will, until after the holidays. . . . Stairs will be open as Christmas draws night and people will be busy working or shopping. Next amateur bout here will be December, with the main bout: Lalo Sabotin, Warren, O. vs. Johnny Komolo, Fredericktown, Pa. G. G. Champ of Ohio and national A. U. king. . . . When Keefe, Youngstown, and Bill Pozzy, middleweights, box in the Ellwood City Dapper Dan show in Ellwood City high school gym. . . . November 20, there'll be hundreds of New Castle fans there. Pozzy is one of the most popular amateurs to appear here. Here & There asked Pozzy recently at Ellwood City as to his extraction and he replied: "Hungarian." He is one of the few boys of Hungarian extraction to dally with boxing gloves. . . . Charlie James, referee, has not officiated in the last three bouts. Possibly there'll be an explanation a-comin'. . . . Bobby Bell, Youngstown, will box Clyde Mayberry, Pittsburgh, in a 10-bout show at Rochester, November 26. If one should see a young man take his left arm and wave at you, he is Benny Prosser, a New Castle Boosters club committeeman, in quest of memberships. He heads the membership committee.

Pitt Seeking Third Victory

Fesler Hopeful Of Winning At Least Three Games In His First Year As Coach

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 20.—(INS)—Coach Wes Fesler will be out to steal the thunder from the favored Penn State Nittany Lions in order to save the Panthers from one of the worst win-loss records when they meet in Pittsburgh Saturday for the 46th meeting in the annual classic.

Despite a record of two victories, five defeats and one tie, the young coach's first season has been successful as far as Panther followers were concerned. The young squad battled some of the nation's best and put up terrific fights while going down.

Panthers Underdogs
However, the Saturday contest with State will find Fesler's progress the underdogs once again, standing up against the country's finest defensive record held by state. The Blue and Gold must take their season's final game against Bob Higgins' squad in order to equal past records of recent years when Pitt slipped from the top of the heap. Clark Shaughnessy and Charley Bowser, Fesler's predecessors, managed to take at least three wins during the worst seasons of their reign.

Montgomery-Mouzon Are Meeting Today

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 20.—(INS)—Lightweight Champion Bob Montgomery and Wesley Mouzon, who will challenge him for the title at Philadelphia's convention hall Nov. 26, will meet in the state athletic commission offices today for pre-fight examinations.

The examinations have been moved up so that the fighters will not have to break late training at their respective camps. State athletic commission chairman Leon Rainis, reportedly will weigh the contestants himself during the examinations.

Both fighters must be down to 135 by Tuesday noon.

Lane Takes Over Association Job

CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—(INS)—Frank Lane, general manager of the Kansas City Baseball club, today took over the duties of president of the American Association.

Lane was named in Chicago yesterday to fill the post vacated by H. Roy Hamey, who recently resigned as head of the association to become general manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Delegates at the league's annual meeting also elected Bruce Dudley, president of the Louisville Colonels, as vice president.

They voted to open the association's 154-game 1947 schedule on April 16 and close on September 7.

Rockets Sign Up Canadian Center

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 20.—(INS)—The victory-starved Philadelphia Rockets will unveil a new play-making center tonight when they play host to the Cleveland Barons in an American league ice hockey tilt at the Arena.

The new player is Sid Lovelace, formerly of the Stratford Ontario Senators. Coach Herb Gardiner picked him up in his talent tour last week to bolster the Quaker City squad.

At the same time, Gardiner said, he obtained options on several other young stars whom he may bring down later in the season.

Rickey Trying To Scare Durocher

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—(INS)—Prexy Branch Rickey's warning to Leo Durocher to quit stalling and renew his contract as manager with the Dodgers was not taken seriously by Brooklyn fans today.

The Brooklyn magnate's ultimatum was:

"I will name a manager next Monday. All this nonsense has got to be settled. If we can't come to an agreement with Leo by that time, I'm ready to appoint another man."

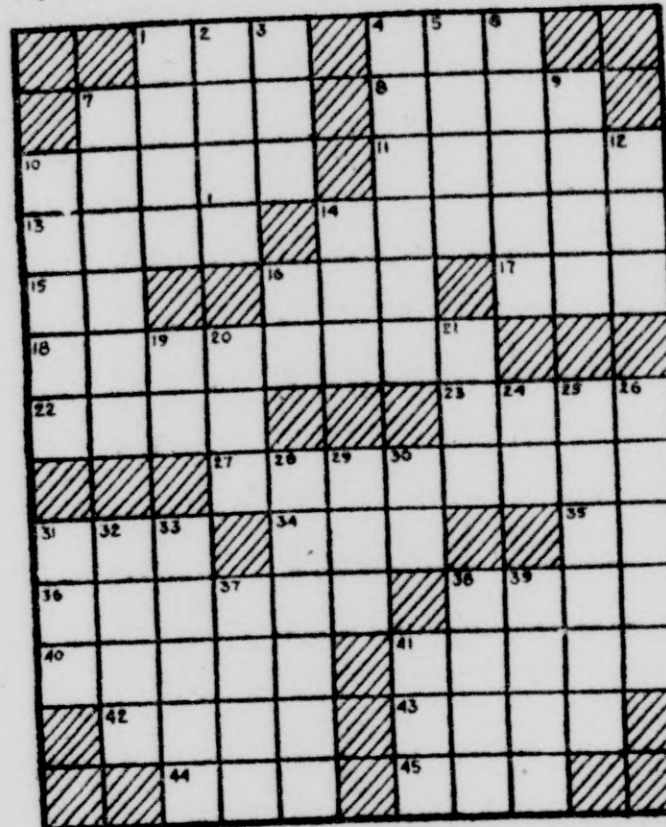

Durocher is on the west coast, doing up Hollywood.

Australia has a "work for all" plan.

INDICATES RAISE FOR BOARDS

In a letter to the members of the election boards of the county County Commissioners Earl R. Wimer, who is the chairman of the election board, indicates that an increase in compensation is in the making for the board members.

The letter to each board member expresses Mr. Wimer's appreciation for their excellent work in the election on November 5 and expresses regret that some of the polling places are not just what they should be. Concluding the letter he says: "I also want you to know that I will be interested in adjusting the compensation of election boards when our budget is made up for the year 1947."

At the present time board members get $5 for the first hundred votes cast and one dollar additional for every hundred or fraction thereof which are cast. In a precinct where 550 votes are cast, the judge and the two inspectors would each receive $10. In addition the judge and the minority inspector get an additional $2.50 for returning the count to the court house.

Constables who serve at the polls on election day get $5. The person renting the polling place gets $10 for the use of his room, and $1 for each booth for setting the polling equipment out and storing it after the election.

PRIMARY IN JUNE

The primary elections of 1947 will be held on Tuesday, June 17, a new date for spring primaries and one which will last only until six months after the war is declared over. The act was passed as an aid to military men and women to vote.

Petitions to have names upon the ballot may be circulated in March and the probabilities are there will be plenty of petitions in circulation.

Offices for which candidates will be nominated include three county commissioners, prothonotary and clerk of courts, county treasurer, county controller, mayor of New Castle, two city councilmen, city treasurer, three school directors, election board members, and members of the county committees of political parties.

PRELIMINARY EXAMINATIONS

Naturalization Commissioner Bernard U. Proser held preliminary examinations for citizens in court room number two Tuesday morning. Only a few applicants were present.

REGISTRATION

Citizens who are not registered will be permitted to do so beginning December 6. A. Lewis Conn, chief clerk said today. The registration books have been closed since before the election and will be closed until December 6.
